

Text Structure & Features

Checklist for Text Structure and Text Features

	Beginning	On the Way	Yes
Can write in familiar genres, using appropriate organizational structures
Uses appropriate language to talk about the structure of texts
Uses text structure to locate information
Uses text structure to anticipate for the coming text
Predicts text organization in familiar genres
Can write in familiar genres using appropriate language style
Can write in familiar genres using appropriate illustrative techniques
Can write in familiar genres using graphic aids where appropriate
Can write in familiar genres using appropriate print features
Connects texts using text structure
Expresses preferences for reading particular genres
Uses text features such as diagrams, labels, tables and graphs appropriately
Connects illustrative material and graphic aids with print material to construct meaning
Explains how using text structure and text features helps own reading comprehension
Reflects on own use of text structure and text features
Sets goals for improving knowledge and use of text structure to help reading comprehension			