

FREE SESSION
for parents

Help your child learn to love reading Fun with Books

Saturday,
February 4
2:00 to 3:00 pm

Hyatt Regency Hotel
Delaware Meeting Room
350 North High Street
in Downtown Columbus

On-street and garage
parking available

Join a FREE SESSION for parents and caregivers
sponsored by the 2012 National Reading Recovery & K-6 Classroom
Literacy Conference

LEARN HOW TO:

- Choose the right books to share with your child (ages 2-8)
- Help your child read independently
- Share literacy activities with your child
- Make reading fun while learning!

LEARN FROM LITERACY EXPERTS:

- Patricia Scharer, OSU professor and Reading Recovery trainer
- Evelyn Arthur, first-grade teacher, Georgetown, OH

Check out the best picture books of 2011 and get a free bibliography to take home. You might even win a door prize just for joining us!

And after the session, be sure to visit the Conference Exhibit Hall where the most-recent children's books and learning tools are available from more than 55 vendors.

Reading Recovery is an effective short-term tutoring program where lowest-performing first graders work with specially trained teachers in daily 30-minute lessons. Each year, the National Reading Recovery & K-6 Classroom Literacy Conference brings thousands of literacy educators together for a rich learning experience. This FREE PARENT SESSION is open to the general public and is presented as a community service.